We are publishing this letter because our comment explains the difficulty of reproducing death notices of years ago.

Editor The Star: In working on a family history I am curious to know if you have back copies of old newspapers, and if so how far back.

I would like to know if you have a death writup of—
R. Bardwell (Reuben), died April 21, 1916, in Hempstead County, Arkansas.

Please advise if you find such, and the cost of your furnishing it. Very truly yours,

We have bound files going back to Vol. 1, No. 1, starting with the initial issue Oct. 14, 1899—but no extra copies of course.

We keep extra copies for 90 days back, mainly for proof of publication of advertisements. That's about par for all daily papers. You appreciate it would take a warehouse to hold complete newspaper copies going back several years—not to mention the starting year 1899.

When we have time we will consult the 1916 file of Star of Hope, a weekly at the time published by the late Ed. McCorkle, who converted to a daily Jan. 1, 1920, and sold out to Palmer & Washburn Jan. 18, 1929.

Even if we find the item in question, there being no extra copies and the file itself being untouchable, it would be an expensive process to photograph it.

We could make a typewritten copy, however.

Beginning with our conversion to offset we abandoned the bound-file system and switched to micro-film. Here you have a "reader" which scans each page of the date in question. If desired, the Dallas laboratory which holds the master negative could then furnish a "positive" or proof of the desired page. This cost is moderate.

However, the micro-film file goes back only to 1966—which wouldn't help the gentleman

25 Massacred at Tel Aviv Airport by Jap Terrorists

2 Attackers Die, 3rd Is Taken Alive

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — Three young Japanese terrorists hired by a Palestine guerrilla movement staged a massacre with submachine guns and grenades in the passenger terminal at Israel's international airport Tuesday night, killing 25 persons and wounding more than 70.

Travelers, relatives, bystanders and employees at the crowded airport were hit in the wild fusillade of gunfire and explosions loosed by three gunmen who disembarked from a Paris-Rome-Tel Aviv flight, pulled weapons from their baggage and started shooting.

After firing indiscriminately into the crowd, one of the terrorists shot up two parked planes, then blew himself up.

Editor The Star: You had an article in your paper a few days ago saying if we did not receive our Hope Star to let you know.

Mine failed to come Tuesday, May 23, and today, Friday, May 26. I talked to a close neighbor this afternoon and she said hers didn't come either (both days). Am sure everyone else in this area failed to get theirs.

We're about 18 miles from Hope and it takes three days to get a paper. I believe the Pony Express beat that.

I hope the mail situation can be improved.

Please don't think I'm complaining—just reporting—for I know it's no fault of the Hope Star. Respectfully,

Bomb Blast Delays Nixon Home Trip

TEHRAN (AP) — A rash of bombs hit Tehran today, killing an Iranian woman, breaking both legs of a U.S. Air Force general and delaying President Nixon's schedule by 45 minutes.

One explosion occurred about 100 yards from the site of the President's final public appearance in Iran, at the tomb of the father of the Shah of Iran, where Nixon was to place a wreath. The bomb went off just outside the 10-foot wall around the tomb an hour before the President was due there.

Nixon's motorcade was delayed, but he went ahead with his appearance at the tomb of Reza Shah 20 miles outside Tehran.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said a car in which Brig. Gen. Harold L. Price was riding in a Tehran suburb hit an explosive device in the roadway, killing an Iranian woman standing nearby and breaking both the general's legs.

A third explosion shattered windows and damaged a side wall at the seven-story U.S. Information Service building in downtown Tehran.

There was a fourth explosion at a Pepsi-Cola plant.

"There is no indication whatsoever that the acts were aimed at the life of the President or members of his party," Ziegler told newsmen.

Majority for McClellan in Hempstead

Reversing the state-wide trend Hempstead county gave U.S. Senator John L. McClellan a clear majority over his three opponents in Tuesday's preferential primary election. Complete unofficial returns from the county's 33 precincts gave the following tabulation for U.S. Senator:

McClellan 3,320
David Pryor 2,600
Ted Boswell 387
Foster Johnson 89

But for governor Hempstead joined the state-wide landslide for Gov. Dale Bumpers. He polled 4,570 on complete unofficial county returns; Q. Byrum Hurst got 877, George Davis 634, Mack Harbour 311, and Lester Gibbs 124.

Attorney General Ray Thornton was the leader in the county for the Fourth Congressional seat with 3121 votes. Texarkana attorney Richard Arnold followed with 2522; El Dorado attorney Richard Mays had 499 and Jack Coleman of McGhee received 202.

In the Attorney General's contest, Bill Thompson ran over Jim Guy Tucker, 4278 to 1929. Secretary of State Kelly Bryant won his home county, polling 4779, followed by Vernon Whitten with 640, Jack Riggs 509, and Senator Oscar Alagood 459.

Lawmen Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 50 to 100 top law enforcement officials from throughout the state opened a two-day meeting here Tuesday to discuss organized crime.

Lt. W. E. Simpson, police public information officer for Little Rock, said the conference was closed to the press and the public for security reasons. He said officials would discuss trends in burglaries, robberies and automobile thefts.

Also at the meeting are several Oklahoma law enforcement officials.

McClellan, Pryor in Runoff; Bumpers and Thornton Winners

Thornton Nominated for Congress

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton held a slim majority in his quest for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 4th District Tuesday, apparently evading a runoff, while prospects for a runoff loomed in the party fight in the 3rd District.

Thornton clung to his majority lead over Richard S. Arnold, a Texarkana lawyer, in the four-man race for the position that Rep. David Pryor is giving up in his bid for the Senate.

With 743 of 770 precincts reported, the unofficial vote was Thornton 65,607, Arnold 37,299, El Dorado lawyer Richard Mays 18,656 and Jack Coleman of McGhee 6,650.

In the 3rd District, Guy Hatfield of Rogers, a retired actor, held a lead totaling slightly less than a majority of the vote in incomplete returns. If the trend continued, he would face a runoff with the second-place man, Howard Guess Cain Jr., a Huntsville lawyer, June 13.

With 619 of 706 precincts reported, Hatfield had 45,059 votes to Cain's 36,257. The other candidate in the race, Milton Emerson Stolberg of Wayton, had polled 10,910.

The incumbent in the 3rd District is Republican John Paul Hammerschmidt, who had no GOP opposition. No Republican sought the 4th District job.

The state's other two congressmen, presidential aspirant Wilbur D. Mills and Bill Alexander, did not have opposition.

Thornton, 43, serving his first term as attorney general, probably was the best known candidate in the 4th District race.

Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3,000 grant has been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for medical library improvement at the Desha County Hospital Association at Dumas.

Gov. Bumpers Wins in a Breeze

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers breezed to a resounding victory in the Democratic primary for nomination to a second two-year term Tuesday.

The governor, attracting about 66 per cent of the total vote in his race against four opponents, said he had anticipated winning.

He said he would like to think of his victory as an endorsement of his administration and of clean campaign tactics.

Bumpers, 46, now faces Republican Len. E. Blaylock, former state welfare commissioner, in the general election. Blaylock was unopposed in the GOP primary.

With 2,437 of 2,618 precincts tabulated, the unofficial vote totals were Bumpers 303,942, state Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Spring 76,771, hospital administrator Mack Harbour of Paragould 50,887, state Rep. George W. Davis of Horatio 21,115 and Les Gibbs of North Little Rock 5,746.

Bumpers said after his nomination, "The people are looking for truth." He made the statement in apparent reference to charges his rivals had made in the campaign. The governor's vote totals recalled the sizeable majorities amassed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus

President Named

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. James C. Finlay, 49, has been named the 30th president of Fordham University.

Finlay, dean of Fordham's Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, will succeed the Rev. Michael Walsh, who resigned recently.

The appointment was announced Tuesday.

McClellan Pushed Hard by Pryor

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Democrats refused to give 30-year Senate veteran John L. McClellan a majority endorsement for nomination to a sixth term in Tuesday's primary, forcing a politically risky runoff with Rep. David Pryor.

The powerful McClellan, the Senate's chief crime fighter, led the ticket as expected, but his vote total fell well below the majority in the four-man race that would have allowed him to escape the runoff.

The handsome Pryor, 37, recognizing that Arkansas incumbents traditionally have fared poorly in runoffs, predicted victory in the June 13 rematch, promising the voters "one of the most exciting races ever run in Arkansas."

The 76-year-old McClellan, whose age figured as a major issue, said he had demonstrated during the campaign that his age was not a handicap and that he was ready to wage a vigorous runoff campaign if necessary.

Although his vote total hovered at about 45 per cent during ballot counting through the night, McClellan would not concede that he was in a runoff, but he admitted that he was a "little disappointed" at his showing.

Pryor, displaying strength statewide, especially in the South Arkansas House district that he has represented for three terms, attracted about 42 per cent of the vote in incomplete returns.

Humphrey Makes Apology Nevada County Returns

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has apologized for saying that Sen. George McGovern's tax plan made the South Dakota "a fool," and both of the candidates have rejected any possibility of having Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace as a running mate.

The tone of the second televised confrontation between the two front-runners for the Democratic presidential nomination was milder than their first encounter. It focused largely on McGovern's tax and defense proposals.

Early in Tuesday night's debate, Humphrey apologized for having suggested Sunday in Fresno, Calif., that McGovern would be a fool to propose what the Minnesotan termed confiscatory tax proposals.

The Minnesotan said, "That's unfortunate language and a man makes a mistake." He described McGovern as a fine man.

Both men appeared inhibited by the program format, which called for them to answer questions from four newsmen under limits that barred the free-wheeling exchanges of their first session Sunday night.

Humphrey, whose first reaction was an objection to the format, said the meetings with McGovern are "having a wonderful effect" on his effort to beat McGovern in next Tuesday's California primary. "It's like vitamins," the Minnesota senator declared.

Asked about the fact that questioning centered on McGovern's proposals, Humphrey said, "That's probably because he has more printed up." He said he was surprised there wasn't more questioning on his urban and environmental proposals.

At the outset of the special one-hour version of NBC's "Meet the Press," both candidates rejected Wallace as a possible vice presidential running mate while indicating they would support whichever of them wins the Democratic nomination.

Humphrey displayed a less aggressive style, apparently reflecting fears by advisers he had been too strident Sunday night, but continued to assail McGovern's "income supplement" plan, his tax reform proposals and his call for a $32 billion cut in defense spending.

McGovern defended his proposal for a 77 per cent tax on inheritances over $500,000, said a pledge to keep California air cases open doesn't conflict with his defense proposals, and noted that even families who would pay some more taxes for his "income supplement" plan would get substantial property tax relief.

He rejected a questioner's suggestion that his proposals were too far-reaching to win congressional approval and, in a closing statement, said his proposals "only seem radical to people who are so wedded to the past."

Coastal City Pounded by Bombers

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers, using electronic "smart" bombs with TV nose cameras for pinpoint accuracy, launched an aerial campaign to isolate Vinh, the big coastal city midway between Hanoi and the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen said today.

Pilots from the carrier Midway said they knocked out the Tho Tuong railroad bridge 10 miles southwest of Vinh with two of the 1,000-pound high explosive bombs.

The glide bomb carries in its nose a television camera that relays pictures back to a screen in the plane. When the bomb focuses on the target, the pilot keeps it on course by transmitting electronic signals to four tail fins that steer it.

Waves of Navy jets from three carriers in the Tonkin Gulf concentrated their raids around Vinh on Tuesday.

Vinh is a major transshipment point for supplies moving south. Pilots also reported destroying railroad tracks and damaging a highway bridge leading to the city. Officials in Saigon claimed that most major bridges and roads and the northeast and northwest rail lines from Hanoi to China have now been cut.

In Washington, the Pentagon claimed that U.S. bombing has cut "close to zero" the flow of supplies from China by rail.

The battle fronts in South Vietnam were reported generally quiet, with the exception of Kontum, in the central highlands.

For the third successive day, 50 U.S. B-52 bombers blasted North Vietnamese positions on all sides of the city with 1,250 tons of explosives.

The Saigon command said 175 North Vietnamese troops were killed in fighting in and around the city Tuesday. South Vietnamese losses were 31 killed and 89 wounded, the command said.

Court Backlog May Extend Session

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court will have to step on the gas—hard—if it intends to finish work and get out of town by July.

The justices handed down opinions in only five argued cases Tuesday. None was of overriding importance. Included among them was a ruling on patents for machines that removes veins from shrimp.

A total of 66 argued cases remain. Among them: the legality of the death penalty, baseball's exemption from antitrust laws, and the wiretapping of domestic "subversives" by federal agents without warrants.

The court plans to meet to announce decisions once a week in June. This means it will have to accelerate to a rate of about 16 decisions a session to clear its docket.

In the last 70 years, the court has never extended a term into July. The justices held a special session in July 1942, however, to rule against a group of German submariners who had been intercepted by FBI agents, and in July 1957 to rule against a soldier, William S. Girard, who wanted to be tried in an American court in the slaying of a Japanese woman.

In September 1958, the justices interrupted their customary June-to-October vacation to order immediate desegregation of public schools in Little Rock, Ark.

Only tradition would prevent the justices from extending the current term into July, a variation court sources say is not planned now.

This year's pileup of cases is the probable reflection of deep divisions within the court as it shifts away from the liberalism of the years when Earl Warren was chief justice to a more restrained philosophy under Warren Burger.

Only one of the last 17 opinions was unanimous. Even the ruling on shrimp-machine patents split the court, 5 to 4.

Tuesday's most important decision allows the states to cut welfare payments to needy children by a larger percentage than aid to the blind, the aged and the disabled. Twenty-six states already do.

Arctic Air Brings Cool Temperatures

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A mass of arctic air settled over the central portion of the nation today, chilling large areas from the Great Lakes to the Ozarks.

Temperatures in parts of the Midwest held in the mid-40s Tuesday after almost two weeks of unseasonably warm weather.

Showers and thunderstorms broke out as the cold air rolled slowly eastward. Rain extended from New York to the Carolinas and from the Florida Panhandle to central Texas.

They noted progress in relations between East and West, with increased contacts of leading personalities and significant agreements.

They welcomed President Nixon's signature in Moscow of limits on nuclear weapons, and the resolve of the Soviets and Americans to continue their negotiations actively. They said they hoped the accords would be the start of a new and promising era of talks on the control of armaments.

The ministers also expressed satisfaction with West Germany's new treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland. They said they hoped the agreement on West Berlin with the Soviet Union, due to be signed on Saturday, will mean the beginning of a new era for the city, free from the tension which has characterized its history over the past 25 years.

In view of this development, MAJORITY FOR (from Page one)

Jones rolled over his opponent, Benny Roark, 4774 to 1329.

In the Prosecuting Attorney's race for the 8th Judicial District, Damon Young edged Norman Smith by 22 votes, 3216 to 3194.

Finis Odom and Carter Sutton led in the County Judges' contest and will meet in the June 13 runoff. Odom had 2605, Sutton 2244, and Perry Henley 1737.

Lile Easterling won the Tax Assessor's office with a total of 3524 to 2915 for Jerry Garrett.

Mrs. Dee McMurrough was the winner in the County Clerk's race, receiving 3790 votes to 2765 for Mrs. Pat House.

In McCaskill, Nels Epperson defeated J. E. Adams 27-14 for the office of Mayor; in the three Alderman races, Irvin Honeycutt won over Jess West 20-15, I. B. Spicer defeated J. S. Moses 32-9, and John Gaines was the winner by 21-15 over Mrs. Wilma Clendenen.

For Spring Hill Democratic Central Committee man, W. E. Tarpley won by one vote over Garland Kidd, 131 to 130.

Compromise Reached At NATO Meeting

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
BONN (AP) — The United States and its North Atlantic allies agreed today that military measures to reinforce confidence and increase stability between Soviet and Western forces could be discussed at the 35-nation conference on cooperation in Europe which President Nixon and the Soviet leaders agreed should be held next year.

This compromise was reached at the end of NATO's two-day spring meeting of foreign ministers to which Secretary of State William P. Rogers brought forth agreements in Moscow that opened the way to further East-West talks.

There was also agreement today among the allies—in which France did not join—to press for separate talks with the Soviets on mutual and balanced reduction of forces in Europe.

In a final communique, the ministers insisted "defense and detente are inseparable." They renewed their pledge to defend the freedom and security of all 15 members of the alliance.

But they added that they are working for an improvement of their relations with the countries of Eastern Europe and seeking a just and lasting peace to overcome the division of Germany and promote the security of Europe.

They noted progress in relations between East and West, with increased contacts of leading personalities and significant agreements.

They welcomed President Nixon's signature in Moscow of limits on nuclear weapons, and the resolve of the Soviets and Americans to continue their negotiations actively. They said they hoped the accords would be the start of a new and promising era of talks on the control of armaments.

Smith Wins Race for Prosecutor

Norman M. Smith was elected Prosecuting Attorney for the 8th Judicial District in unofficial district returns of 13,348 to 12,524 for Damon Young.

Smith is the deputy for Miller county and a former deputy of Hempstead. Young is a Texarkana attorney.

Miller county gave Smith the largest majority, 5,165 to 4,290 for Young. Smith also carried Clark county, 3,352-3,003. Young had a 2,015-1,637 vote in Nevada county and edged Smith in Hempstead county by 22 votes, 3,216-3,194.

with a hand grenade. A second was killed by bullets fired by his comrades, and the third was captured alive after trying to escape.

The dead included at least 13 Puerto Ricans passing through the airport on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and Prof. Aharon Katzir, former president of the Israel Academy of Sciences and head of the International Union of Pure and Applied Biophysics.

A 3-year-old girl was among the dead.

Among those who escaped injury were Carol Golden of New York, arriving for a vacation, and her brother Tom, who lives in Israel with their mother. A bullet gouged the mother's knee, but she was not hurt seriously.

"Are you kidding?" said Miss Golden when asked if she would stay for the month she had planned. "I'm getting out of here as soon as I can."

The 10-minute attack turned the customs hall and waiting room into a shambles of blood, human flesh, broken glass and parts of suitcases and bodies.

"It looked like a slaughterhouse," said one witness.

The Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine—PFLP—issued a statement in Beirut, Lebanon, claiming responsibility for the shooting. The captured terrorist told Israeli authorities he had been paid by a guerrilla organization, but he did not say which one.

"Arkansas represents a change, people are tired of more of the same," he said. "I don't think this is a slap at McClellan."

However, Pryor grimaced at any reference to his being the next senator.

"I am not taking anything for granted—this will be the hardest two weeks," he said. A speech prepared for campaign workers carried the reminder at the top: "If there is a runoff."

But at his headquarters, buoyed by the cheers of the hundreds packed into the room, Pryor appeared jubilant.

He climbed upon a chair and reminded supporters that in the past in Arkansas when an incumbent is forced into a runoff, he is defeated.

"This is not necessarily so—we think it's so—let's make it so," he said.

He followed the statement with instructions for campaign workers to be at the headquarters bright and early in the morning for job assignments.

At the McClellan headquarters, supporters lined all the walls and stared at television sets.

Campaign aides repeatedly said they did not know when the senator would appear at the headquarters.

Youth Finds Hope Of Conquering Disease

FARMERVILLE, La. (AP) — When he was 5 years old, Dennis Evans was so incapacitated that his arms, legs and head jerked uncontrollably every waking second.

Now 14, Dennis has, for the first time, hope of conquering the rare disease which causes his affliction or, at least, having a more pleasant life.

He returned to his home here last week by commercial plane after undergoing rare knifeless surgery in New York City on the right side of his brain. The surgery relieved the involuntary movements on the left side of his body and he'll go back to additional surgery later this year.

The fact he took a commercial flight was itself extraordinary. The State Health Department noted that commercial airlines would not carry him up to New York in April for the surgery, because of his violent muscle contractions.

Officials said that outgoing Gov. John McKeithen provided the state plane, with the State Health Department paying the expenses for the youth and his mother, Emma Jewell King, to go to St. Barnabas Hospital for Chronic Disease in the Bronx.

Dr. Irving S. Cooper, director of the department of neurologic surgery at the hospital and a pioneer in developing knifeless surgery in which supercooled temperatures are used, said the operation May 2 was "quite hazardous but successful."

In an interview, Cooper said it is almost inconceivable that the Dennis, could endure this suffering for so long. The doctor, who has treated more than 7,000 patients for

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "Oprland, U.S.A.," an NBC special Tuesday night, was not quite as country-style as the title of the musical hour suggested, almost, but not quite. Actually, it is the name of a new amusement complex near Nashville, Tenn.

The center now joins the Disneyland, Cypress Gardens and Marineland which have landed television shows on the premises and thus entered the consciousness of vacation-minded Americans.

The "c'mon down" message was not shouted, however. The backgrounds were permitted to speak for themselves—the replica of the Mississippi riverboat, the old Southern plantation house, the village-type bandstand. In front of them was an assortment of musical performers—Johnny Cash, Tennessee Ernie Ford, the Carter Family, Roy Acuff and some rousing singing groups.

Least some viewers found it all too rural, they balanced off the comedy style of Minnie Pearl with the more urbane comedy of Danny Thomas (who has suddenly sprouted silvery sideburns) and imported Leslie Uggams and Carol Lawrence to add more city-slicker notes.

It was a pleasant tuneless hour, all very low key. But amusement parks are awkward places for musical shows and comedy—as Miss Pearl must have found out when about all she was given to do was make funny faces.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern fought round two of their three confrontations on national television as they appeared on an hour-long special edition of NBC's "Meet the Press."

From the viewer's standpoint, the program worked much better than their first tangle Sunday night on CBS. The two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination answered questions from a panel of newsmen and refrained from answering each other. Some of the questions were as revealing as the answers.

By the end of the program, the uncommitted neutral viewer had a much clearer idea of what each man stands for in the critical areas of national defense, taxation, welfare reform and busing.

Lucille Ball, whose leg has been in a cast since early January when she suffered a leg fracture in a skiing accident at Snowmass, Colo., finally shed the plaster sheath Tuesday and started a therapy program to strengthen leg muscles.

Production of next season's "Here's Lucy" shows has already started with Lucy's fractured leg written into the scripts.

movements disorders, described it as "one of the most severe cases I have seen."

Dr. James Moncrief, pediatric neurologist and a consultant for the State Health Department, had diagnosed the disease as a progressive disorder of the central nervous system, involving the basal ganglia.

Evans' family could not afford the expensive medical costs, so he has been under the state's handicapped children's program since 1964. Cooper performed the operation without charge and local funds were collected to help.

The operation basically involved destroying cells by freezing at low temperatures.

Cooper said it will be "necessary to do similar surgery on the right side of the brain, but we must wait three to six months."

On her return, Mrs. King told friends her son was very pleased with the operation and it appears it is going to work.

Mildred Bailey, a public health nurse for the Monroe district, said hopefully relief also will be given to the youth's head and neck, which have been subject to involuntary movement. She said his head is bent backwards toward the spine.

"He had just been miserable so long," she said. "He just had to have something done."

That is the worst part of the problem, said Dr. Moncrief. "The child is suffering for so long."

Jumping to Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: Marriages between circus freaks are more lasting than those between movie stars. They usually are happier, too. The reason is not only that the average freak has a better character and a more attractive personality than the average movie star, although that is certainly part of the explanation. The careers of married circus freaks are less antagonistic to one another than the careers of married movie stars. And freaks aren't psychologically as dependent on audience approval as movie stars are.

Even people crowded in a subway continue their ride feeling less grumpy after they have made room for a child carrying a handful of flowers. There is always room in life for the right thing.

If every sane man on earth liked thinking better than eating, drinking or making love, I know what I'd like to be. I'd like to be the village idiot.

Stuffed shirts do not get either the credit or respect they deserve in life. They are greatly needed object lessons in this world. They provide us with visible warnings of things we don't want to let ourselves become, no matter what else time makes of us while mutilating our dreams and goals. A stuffed shirt is a warning symbol on the road downhill to human bankruptcy. A stuffed shirt often may have many admirable qualities. For example, he may be so sincere in his overinflated pomposity that he is totally devoid of hypocrisy. Stuffed-shirtism in the old is always pathetic but sometimes charming in a crusty sort of way. But a young stuffed shirt is always a comic delight in a time when there are so few things for the bystander to laugh at.

The biggest mistake most men make in this world is that they wear dreams two sizes too large for them and shoes one size too small.

The only nice thing you can say about going to hell is that by the time a man gets there he is too tired to complain about the accommodations.

Blondes get the hiccupps more often than brunettes do.

One of the biggest economic puzzles of my lifetime to me is how come this generation manages to spend most of its time sitting in cars and swivel chairs but still buys fewer two-pants suits than the previous generation did, which was supposed to have been on its toes all the time.

'Just Another Ball Game' for Robinson

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers against the San Francisco Giants? To Frank Robinson, it's just another ball game. But he's got other incentives.

"I haven't been around here long enough to get any specific feeling over the Dodgers-Giants rivalry," the Los Angeles right fielder said Tuesday night. "These games haven't got the adrenalin flowing."

"But this was a very important game," Robinson added. "It got us into first."

More properly, Robinson got the Dodgers into first with his bat and glove. In the top of the eighth inning he followed Willie Davis' leadoff single with a tie-breaking home run.

Then, in the bottom of the inning, with the Giants threatening to score—and stumbling all over themselves in the futile attempt—he gunned down a San Francisco runner at the plate to preserve the Dodgers' 5-3 victory.

In the rest of the National League's weather-wrecked schedule, the New York Mets beat Philadelphia 7-0 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 9-5. Rain postponed the San Diego-at-Atlanta and Pittsburgh-at-Montreal games and cold weather knocked out St. Louis' contest against the Cubs in Chicago.

Robinson also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly as the Dodgers built a 3-0 lead, only to see it evaporate by the seventh inning as Dave Kingman belted his 12th home run and Bobby Bonds knocked in two runs with a single and a fly ball.

Then came the bizarre bottom of the eighth.

The Giants managed to get through it without a run despite three singles and a hit batsman.

Tito Fuentes and Ed Goodson singled and Damasco Blanco, just up from the minors, went in to run for Goodson. Kingman, the next batter, then missed a bunt attempt and Fuentes, who'd taken off on the pitch, was trapped between second and third.

He finally managed, with some urging by the Dodgers, to make it back to second, only to find Blanco already there. Blanco was called out on the play.

The Mets' Jon Matlack, who has yet to lose this year, chalked up victory No. 6 by limiting the Phillies to just three harmless singles.

Rusty Staub got more than that all by himself for New York, driving in four runs with two doubles and two singles as the Mets, taking advantage of Pittsburgh's enforced idleness, widened their National League East lead to four games over the Bucs.

Johnny Bench was Cincinnati's big gun against the Astros, driving in four runs with a tie-breaking single and two home runs, the first one an inside-the-park job. It was Houston's fourth straight defeat.

Crandall Takes Over Brewers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Del Crandall will remember his major league managerial debut for a long time and Skip Lockwood will never forget Dave Bristol.

"I certainly should be able to remember a one-hitter for a long time," Crandall said Tuesday night after taking over as skipper of the Milwaukee Brewers and watching Lockwood tame New York 3-1 with Rusty Torres' sixth-inning single the Yankees' only hit.

Lockwood, who hurled a six-hit shutout against Detroit last Thursday, said he felt badly when Bristol was fired as manager three days later.

"You can't ever say a manager is your friend," Lockwood said, "but when you lose someone who's taught you a lot you feel the loss. Dave and I had no love lost when I first came up. I was a cocky kid. But in three years I learned from him and got to understand him. He helped me on the baseball field and off and I'll be a better person and a better ballplayer for having played for him."

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston trounced Baltimore 6-0, Texas nipped Oakland 3-2, Minnesota edged Kansas City 3-2 and California whipped the Chicago White Sox 6-0. Detroit and Cleveland were rained out.

Only 4,175 fans saw Crandall's managerial debut in 44-degree weather with gusts up to 26 miles an hour. It was warm inside the Brewers' clubhouse, though.

"I'm very, very pleased and happy about it," Crandall said. "It's just a beginning, but it's a win and that's what's important."

The Brewers tallied in the second, third and eighth innings on run-scoring singles by Ellie Rodriguez, George Scott and Mike Ferraro. That was more than enough for Lockwood, even though the 25-year-old right-hander struggled with his control, losing his shutout in the sixth when Torres singled following two walks.

Boston's Ray Culp throttled Baltimore on three hits and Carlton Fisk and Tommy Harper homered off Mike Cuellar as the Red Sox ended the Orioles' four-game winning streak and dropped them into a first-place tie with Detroit in the A.L. East.

The Sox took advantage of an error by Brooks Robinson, of all people, on a potential double play ball in the second inning to score their first three runs. Culp squeezed home the first

Little League Winners

In Little League play last night at K-Park Sheriffs won over Walker's Ref. by a score of 10 to 4 in the first game, and the second game was won by James Mtr. Co. beating Lions 8 to 6.

Willis Williams was the pitcher for Sheriffs. Walker's Ref. used Drew Easterling and Robert Smith on the mound. Leading all hitters for the winners was James Stuart collecting one double and one home run. Clinton Pree was the leading hitter for the losers getting two hits.

In the second game of the evening Bruce Hunt was the pitcher for James Mtr. Co. and Britt Henry and Kenny Newton saw mound duty for Lions. Hitters for the winners were Steve Banks and Tommy Bryant getting two hits apiece. The best hitters for the losers were Preston Walker, Ken Newton, and Britt Henry all getting two hits.

Thursday night games will be CBC vs Hope Auto at 6:30 p.m. and Greening-Ellis vs Barry's in the second game of the night.

one and Luis Aparicio singled for two more.

Texas' Rich Hand allowed Oakland only three hits in 8 1-3 innings but needed a strong relief job by Horacio Pina to preserve his first victory of the season. Dave Duncan homered for the A's—his 10th—and Ted Ford for the Rangers, who got the winning run off Ken Holtzman in the seventh on a single by Ken Suarez, a sacrifice, pinch runner Dave Nelson's steal of third and Toby Harrah's sacrifice fly.

Phil Roof, hitting .180 at game time, powered Minnesota over Kansas City with his first two home runs of the season, solo shots in the second and fourth innings. It was the first time in the catcher's 14-year pro career that he hit two homers in one game. Roof may have been embarrassed by the fact that Jim Perry, the Twins' starting pitcher, had a .313 batting average.

Bob Oliver drove in four runs with a homer and single to support Nolan Ryan's seven-hit, 10-strikeout pitching as the Angels sent the White Sox to their fifth defeat in the last six games.

Signs Players

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Raiders of the World Hockey Association announced today the signing of right wing-er Alton White, one of only two black players in professional hockey.

White, who celebrated his 27th birthday today, has spent the last three years with Providence of the American Hockey League and scored 30 goals for the Reds last season.

The only other black in pro hockey is Willie O'Ree of the San Diego Gulls in the Western Hockey League. He played 45 games for the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League in 1957-58 and 1960-61.

MONTREAL (AP) — A strike by city manual workers and a conflict with a Montreal Expos' National League baseball game has forced a one-day postponement of the Canada-U.S. women's track meet scheduled here this weekend.

The track meet, which will bring together some of North America's finest women athletes, was to have opened Saturday but a conflict with a scheduled baseball game forced the start be postponed to Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Sun-Times reported in today's editions that recently retired Chicago Cubs first baseman-outfielder Joe Pepitone will meet today with Cubs general manager John Holland for talks on his possible return to active play.

The Sun-Times said Pepitone, who resigned suddenly May 2, saying he had lost interest in baseball, intends to accompany the Cubs on their upcoming West Coast road trip and make his first start against Pittsburgh on July 2.

Veteran Golfers Meet

By GEOFFREY MILLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
SANDWICH, England (AP) — Veteran Walker Cup golfers, Joe Carr of Ireland and Ed Tutwiler of the United States, meet today in a battle of wits on one of the most demanding courses in the world.

The wily old campaigners—Carr is 50 and Tutwiler 52—were paired in the third round of the British Amateur Championship on the Royal St. George's link.

The exposed 6,533-yard, par 34-36—70 course always is difficult because of its deep and cunningly placed sand traps, but this week a high wind, sometimes approaching gale force, has turned it into a nightmare.

"My friends at home never believed me when I told them how hard it can blow here," said Tutwiler, a car salesman from Indianapolis.

Both men played in the 1967 Walker Cup match, but they did not face each other.

On Tuesday, both won second round matches in convincing style against young opponents.

Carr handed Mickey Van Gerbig of Palm Beach, Fla., a lesson in driving and hitting and won, 6 and 5. Tutwiler, without making a single birdie, moved steadily to a 5 and 4 victory over Peter Holt of Britain.

Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., who played on the 1969 U.S. Walker cup team, faced Gordon Hyde of Britain today. Siderowf won his first two matches without having to play past the 14th hole.

Two other Americans, Marty West of Chevy Chase, Md., and Kemp Richardson of LaGuna Nigual, Calif., reached the third round.

Six Americans had to play second round matches today.

Pros Set Pace For Amateurs

CLEVELAND (AP) — The nation'suffers got a break from the weather—it was terrible—in their hopes of beating scores posted by pro champions Jack Nicklaus and Kathy Whitworth.

Nicklaus, the PGA champion, and Miss Whitworth, the LPGA titleholder, had scores of 72 and 80, respectively, in establishing the targets for amateur players throughout the country.

They were hampered by a steady, heavy downpour as they bested U.S. open champ Lee Trevino and women's open champion Jo Anne Carner in the annual National Golf Day activities at the Canterbury Country Club course Tuesday.

Trevino, bundled in sweaters and rain gear, played the front nine in 39 en route to a five-over-par 76, losing to Nicklaus by four strokes. Miss Whitworth beat Miss Carner 80-82 in the women's competition.

Those winning scores, 72 for men and 80 for women, will be the targets for thousands of players throughout the country in one of golf's largest annual charitable programs.

For a $1 entry fee players can attempt to beat those scores in relation to par—one over for men, six over for women—at any public or private course in the country. All amateurs use their established handicaps in their efforts to beat the champs. Those who do will receive a certificate stating that they beat Jack Nicklaus or Kathy Whitworth.

Orantes Favored In French Open

PARIS (AP) — Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., the surprise of the French Open Tennis Tournament, meets Manuel Orantes of Spain in a quarter-final match on the center court today.

Orantes, seeded No. 4 and winner of the recent Italian Championship, is heavily favored. But the hustling Solomon wasn't expected to get even this far.

Solomon earned his No. 10 ranking in the United States through a long series of victories in satellite tournaments. This is his first overseas tour and his first try for a major international championship.

In another quarter-final match, Czechoslovakia's Jan Kodeš, the 1970 and 1971 winner of the French tournament, meets Patrick Proisy of France. Kodeš is seeded No. 1 and Proisy No. 9.

In women's quarter-final matches, Olga Morozova of Russia meets Francoise Durr of France and Evonne Goolagong of Australia, the defending champion, meets Corine Molesworth of Britain. Miss Goolagong is seeded No. 1 and Miss Durr No. 5.

Solomon and Stan Smith, of Sea Pines, S.C., are the only American men left at the quarter-final stage. Smith will meet Andres Gimeno of Spain Thursday.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., is the lone American woman survivor. Mrs. King will face Mrs. Helga Maschoff of West Germany Thursday in the semifinals.

Replaces Manager

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mike Roarke, manager of the San Antonio Brewers of the Texas Baseball League, will move up to Milwaukee's Class AAA farm team at Evansville, Ind., to replace manager Del Crandall, it was disclosed here Tuesday.

Crandall recently replaced fired Milwaukee manager Dave Bristol.

Taking over the San Antonio team in time for its double-header Monday in Little Rock against the Arkansas Travelers will be Al Widmar, who has been managing Evansville since Crandall left.

San Antonio general manager John Begos said Widmar probably will serve here on an interim basis. "He's the minor league pitching coach for Milwaukee and we think he will return to that job as soon as possible," Begos said.

Roarke will move to Evansville this weekend.

Mafia Probe Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee probing alleged Mafia infiltration into professional sports has again been told how efforts of a Louisiana racetrack and of a Buffalo, N.Y., holding company have contributed to the political campaigns of Louisiana governors.

Further disclosures about the operation of Jefferson Downs race track, located outside New Orleans, could come today. Aaron Kahn, a member of the New Orleans Crime Commission, and Kenneth Norris, of the Louisiana State Police, are scheduled to testify before the House Select Committee on Crime.

Tuesday's testimony was highlighted by the disclosure by John Masoni, president of Jefferson Downs, that he had given $5,000 to the campaign coffers of former Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen.

He said several of his associates, including the Jacobs brothers who head up Emprise Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y., contributed an additional $20,000.

Exchanges Baseball Career For Golf

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — "I'll make it, I'll make it yet."

A wry smile cracked the craggy face of Ken Harrelson, but the eyes held the hungry glint of a hunting hawk. "I'm going to be the first player to make $100,000 a year in one sport, shift over to another sport and make $100,000 a year there," he said.

He's just a little over $99,000 short.

Harrelson has been considerably less than spectacular since he abandoned an eight-year baseball career as an outfielder-first baseman with Boston and Cleveland to try and conquer the demanding world of tournament golf.

He once led the American League in runs batted in, hit 35 home runs with Boston one season, and, at one time, had a $100,000 annual salary.

His biggest check in golf has been just over $600.

He failed to make it through the Tournament Players Division school last fall, picking up in disgust before completing

Favorites In Kemper Tourney

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Tony Jacklin of England and globetrotting Billy Casper make their return to the American tour this week as two of the favorites in the very strong field arrayed for the $175,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Arnold Palmer, South African Gary Player, Lee Trevino, George Archer, Jerry Heard, Bob Lunn and Tom Weiskopf also are in the 144-man field that begins a 72-hole test Thursday on the Quail Hollow Country Club course, a vast track that stretches 7,278 yards over rolling hills and plays to a par 72.

Of the game's great names only Jack Nicklaus is among the missing. The Masters champion and leading money winner took the week off to consider his shabby showing in the last two rounds at Atlanta last week and try to find a putting stroke.

Casper pulled a sagging game together in his last American appearance a month ago when he tied Chi Chi Rodriguez for first place at Dallas only to lose in a playoff. He's been on a tour of Europe and North Africa since then.

Jacklin, who won at Jacksonville early this year, hasn't played in this country since the Tournament of Champions, almost two months ago.

Empire owns most of the stock in Jefferson Downs.

The holding corporation, which recently was convicted in Los Angeles of conspiracy to use interstate facilities to acquire a hidden interest in the Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas, was linked in earlier testimony to a contribution to the late Gov. Earl Long.

Bradford P. Leacy testified two weeks ago that Emprise gave $10,000 to Long's campaign. He said the money was paid while a subsidiary of the Buffalo firm was involved in reorganization of Jefferson Downs the testing grind that enables young players to compete on the lucrative pro tour.

He's played in two major tour events this year—and hasn't completed either failing to qualify for the final two rounds in both the Doral-Eastern and the Atlanta Classic.

"I've had a lot of invitations to play," Harrelson said. "But since I didn't get through the school, I don't have a players' card. If you don't have the card, you can play in only three events."

"I've played in two. The other one will probably be Cleveland."

The 32-year-old Harrelson, still whippet-lean as he was when he was dubbed "The Hawk" as he roamed the major league outfield, admits he "wasn't ready when I first tried to come out."

Predictably, he's a hard hitter. He won a driving contest—with a belt of 301 yards—against the regular pros in Atlanta. But that has been some of his trouble.

"He can hit it, but he doesn't know where it's going to go," said Bob Toski, a former touring pro and now one of the game's most respected teachers.

With his necessarily restricted playing schedule, Harrelson has to content himself with playing in small, non-sanctioned tournaments—he won the $600 in one of those—and with working on his game.

"Right now my goal is the the Players School in Napa, Calif., this fall," he said. That's where you get your card, earn the right to compete. That's the biggest tournament in the world for me right now."

Travelers Take Over First Place

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers rallied for two runs in the sixth inning and whipped Midland 6-5 here Tuesday night to take over first place in the Eastern Division of the Texas League.

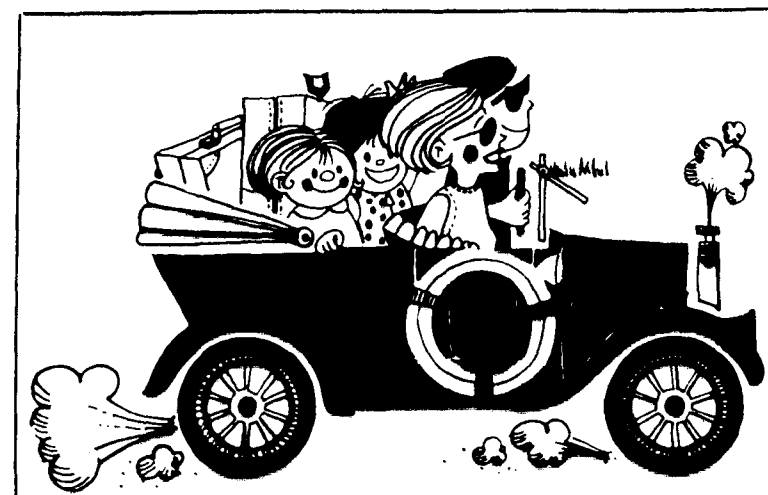

Division-leading Memphis dropped to second after losing to El Paso 12-2.

The victory was the Travelers' 10th in their last 13 games.

Starter Rick Pope picked up the victory although he needed help from Rich Stonum and Steve Evans.

Paul Reuschel absorbed the loss for Midland.

In other Texas League games Tuesday night, Amarillo nipped Shreveport and the Alexandria-San Antonio game was rained out.

Nixon Report to Congress Thursday

TEHRAN (AP) — President Nixon flew back to the Soviet Bloc today, after a state visit of nearly 24 hours to Iran's capital that included

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders announced today President Nixon will address a joint session of Congress Thursday night immediately after his return from his trip to Moscow.

The address, in the House chamber, is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. EDT.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Tuesday that Nixon should make such a report to Congress.

talks with the Shah, a glittering imperial banquet and a rash of small bombings.

The President and Mrs. Nixon took off for Warsaw at 2:07 p.m.—6:37 a.m. EDT—and were due in the Polish capital nearly five hours later.

During an overnight stay in Warsaw, the President will have his first meeting and talks with Polish Communist party boss Edward Gierek. The Nixons fly home to Washington Thursday.

The bombs killed one Iranian woman and broke both legs of a U.S. Air Force general, and one exploded near a royal tomb before Nixon got there to place a wreath. But White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was "no indication whatsoever that the acts were aimed at the life of the President or members of his party."

The Iranian police blamed the bombs on local Marxist guerrillas who have been waging a bomb and bullet campaign against the Shah's regime for two years. Iraqi broadcasts from Baghdad have been urging them to disrupt Nixon's visit.

Nixon's trip to the tomb of Reza Shah, the father of Iran's present ruler, was delayed 45 minutes by the bomb that exploded just outside the 10-foot wall around the tomb. The bomb did little damage, and Nixon appeared unruffled as he placed a wreath on the tomb.

The most serious explosion was set off by the car of Brig. Gen. Harold L. Price as he was riding in a Tehran suburb. The device planted in the roadway killed an Iranian woman standing nearby and broke both the general's legs.

N.Y. State Welfare Program Successful

By ROBERT M. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Due to a fledgling "work or else" program, the state's Department of Social Services reports that thousands of welfare recipients are disappearing into the job market.

Under the program, enacted by the 1971 Legislature and put into effect last July 1, welfare recipients are sorted into two basic groups—those who can hold jobs and those who cannot.

If the recipient were classified as employable, his check would be sent to the local state employment service office where he must pick it up in person.

When he shows up, he is referred to a training program or to a job if one is available. If he does not pick up his check, his welfare eligibility is withdrawn. If he gets his check but does not take the job, he also is dropped from welfare.

The department sampled 455 job placements for last September as the basis for the study of the program's results and followed up by determining how many of those placed in jobs were still working in December.

Figures showed that 32 percent of the jobs lasted one week or less; only about one-third still had jobs at the end of November.

But Van Lare said the bare figures do not reveal a third category—those who left the initial job but found work elsewhere and stayed off welfare.

Lavine and Van Lare said the study did not attempt to put a dollar figure on the success of the program. Lavine said its biggest benefit was "the creation of an atmosphere which encourages people to look for employment."

Mrs. Roberts' answer states that it appears that Carver had not resided in Fayetteville for six months at the time he appeared to register. It also says that Carver does not allege in the suit that he tried to register after the residency requirement in Arkansas law was declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court in April.

Carver's suit challenges the part of the state Constitution's Amendment 51 that gives the county clerk the right to ask questions of students that are not asked of others registering to vote. Heretofore, students usually were considered temporary residents of college communities because they did not live there all year.

Hijacker Kills Self

By EDGAR MILLER
Associated Press Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian authorities turned over $250,000 and three parachutes demanded by a hijacker, got the other 85 passengers and crew members off the Brazilian airliner and then recaptured the plane Tuesday night.

As troops flooded the four-engine turbo-prop Electra with tear gas, the hijacker killed himself with a bullet through his head. He was a stocky, dark-complexioned man who spoke with the accent of north-east Brazil.

Nobody else was hurt, and the money was recovered.

Armed with a small pistol, the hijacker had commandeered the Varig Airlines plane on a flight from Sao Paulo to Curitiba, 250 miles to the south. The gunman forced the pilot to fly back to Sao Paulo where he made his demands known.

He wanted 1.5 million cruzeiros and three parachutes. He also demanded that the plane be refueled and allowed to take off again for an undisclosed destination. In exchange he promised to free the passengers and all but three of the crew.

Pilot Celso Caldera, carrying out the hijacker's orders, told the control tower that three men had taken over the plane.

Nine State Clean-Air Plans Approved

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Environmental Protection Agency today approved nine state and three territorial clean-air plans, but a day-old court order clouded the validity of his action.

That order, a major victory for environment groups, required Ruckelshaus to review the plans and grant final approval only if they give complete protection to air already cleaner than required by federal standards.

Pending that review, EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus approved the complete clean-air plans of Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Mississippi, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, West Virginia, Guam, Puerto Rico and American Samoa.

He approved some parts and rejected other segments of the plans submitted by other states and jurisdictions.

The law requires Ruckelshaus to impose federal regulations where state plans are deemed inadequate. But a prepared EPA statement said work is continuing at the state level and "some of the deficiencies that EPA identified in the plans could well be remedied by state action before hydrocarbons."

EPA is required to promulgate its own regulations." Details of the piece-by-piece approvals and rejections were to be published in 200 pages of the Federal Register. The EPA also scheduled regional news conferences to discuss them.

The entire issue was placed in a new light Tuesday by a court order requiring the government to prevent deterioration of clean air.

The court order gave Ruckelshaus extra time to review the state plans. There was no immediate announcement whether the government would appeal.

As prescribed by federal law, Ruckelshaus has set national air-quality standards designed first to protect human health, then to guard other aspects of the environment.

But U.S. District Court Judge John H. Pratt injected a third requirement: Effective at 9 a.m. today, the federal government may not allow air already cleaner than federal standards to deteriorate in quality.

Under the 1967 and 1970 clean-air laws, Ruckelshaus established nationwide limits for airborne concentrations of six common forms of pollution: sulfur oxides, dust and smoke, carbon monoxide, photochemical oxidants, nitrogen oxides and hydrocarbons.

Conspiracy Charges Denied

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — General Dynamics Corp. has stoutly denied federal charges that the firm and four present and former officials conspired to defraud the government.

A federal indictment, returned Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Dallas, accused General Dynamics of charging the Air Force for defective parts for the F111 fighter-bomber.

A spokesman for General Dynamics here said the charges were without merit. "When the case goes to trial and the complete facts are brought out, the charges will be shown to be groundless," the spokesman said.

The indictment said that as part of the conspiracy the defendants concealed from the Air Force unauthorized production procedures by a subcontractor.

It said none of these parts was turned over to the Air Force or used in the construction of the plane.

The action said the Selb Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge, Ark., located about 120 miles northeast of Little Rock, was a subcontractor for General Dynamics on the F111.

The company manufactured carry-through plates, which are critical parts of the center section of the wings and long-erons—main braces in the fuselage.

According to the indictment, an unspecified number of parts made by Selby were welded in violation of contract specifications.

The indictment accuses General Dynamics of scrapping the parts.

Halbert Ends 45 Years With Arkla

Emmet — A. A. "Slim" Halbert, veteran gas pipeline superintendent, will close a 45-year career in the gas industry next Tuesday when he retires from Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company.

He retires from the position of division superintendent for

A. A. "SLIM" HALBERT

Arkla, a position he has held since 1956. The division includes gas transmission and gathering lines in portions of Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma.

Halbert will be succeeded in the division post by his brother, L. H. "Preacher" Halbert, of Malvern, whose pipeline career spans a 42-year period.

Halbert's career began in 1927 when he was hired as a truck driver at Malvern. He moved to Hope in 1933, serving in various capacities until he was promoted to foreman in 1955, then to assistant division superintendent in 1956.

A native of Prattville, in Grant County, Halbert is a member of the First Baptist Church at Emmet, and is a member of the Masonic Lodge. For the past few years, his duties for Arkla also have included supervision of some of the operations at Arkla Village, formerly a tourist attraction near Emmet.

The retiring executive and his late wife were the parents of a daughter and a son.

L. H. Halbert, who became superintendent June 1, joined Arkla Gas in 1930 and held positions of construction inspector and assistant foreman until he was appointed last year as assistant division superintendent. Halbert is a member of Emmanuel Baptist Church at Malvern, and is a Mason. He and his wife are the parents of a son and daughter.

Dog Awarded Degree

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Because she knows her way around, Gretchen was awarded a special degree by the University of San Diego Law School.

Her diploma was smaller than the other 173 conferred at the weekend ceremonies, but that doesn't mean she didn't work as hard as anyone else.

It's just that Gretchen is a doberman pinscher guide dog who did such a good job for her master, Robert D. Deens, 40, that it was decided she deserved a PHT degree.

The letters stand for "putting him through" a variation of the "putting hubby through" mock degree sometimes given to wives of graduates.

"She certainly deserves it," Deens said. "She has seen me through four years at San Diego State and three years at USD."

Deens, blinded by glaucoma, is a widower who said he plans to be a general practice lawyer.

Labor Warfare Continues

By NEIL GILBRIDE

AP Labor Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Labor leader Jerry Wurf, representing more than half a million public employees, called on the AFL-CIO today to put an end to union jurisdictional fighting and get busy organizing the nation's millions of non-union workers.

"My ambition is to end the jurisdictional wars," said Wurf, president of the 550,000-member American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, one of 119 AFL-CIO unions totaling 13.6 million members.

Wurf, whose labor organization beat out four other unions in a bitter fight for Pennsylvania highway employees last year, said such jurisdictional battles over the same groups of workers weakens organized labor's clout in Congress, in political elections, at the bargaining table and in the eyes of the public.

"The kind of bitterness and mud-slinging that went on in last year's organizational campaign in the state of Pennsylvania was obscene," Wurf said in a keynote speech prepared for the opening of his union's convention.

Wurf's union defeated three AFL-CIO unions—the Service Employees, the Laborers and the Operating Engineers—and the Independent Teamsters in the Pennsylvania fight.

Wurf said the AFL-CIO's present system for settling jurisdictional fights through hearings and sanctions against offenders was inadequate.

"We and other public employee unions have often had to organize in the face of bitter opposition from other organizations, including AFL-CIO affiliates," Wurf said.

"Sometimes it seems that the real threat to our existence is more our trade union colleagues than the boss or the absence of law," Wurf said. His union is lobbying for a federal law covering public workers like labor laws now covering private industry employees.

"There is jurisdictional chaos in the public sector. There is poaching and internecine warfare. We cannot be content with

Antiquated Laws Uncovered

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — It's against the law here for crows to wear bells.

That is one of the antiquated laws still on the books which the business law class at Cleveland State Community College uncovered in a recent study of the city code.

Bill Roberts, class instructor, said the study also revealed that:

—It is illegal for persons over 16 to skate on sidewalks or streets.

—It is unlawful to operate an automobile near a cemetery between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m.

—It is unlawful to operate a "flying jenny" or "merry-go-round" after 6 p.m.

—No person shall board or leave a vehicle while it is in motion.

—No more than two hogs per person may be kept in the city.

—No person may keep, stable or maintain a jackass within the city limits between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. or any hour on Sunday.

—It is unlawful to hitch animals to shade trees or feed them on streets.

Terrorist Group Warning

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — A terrorist group called the Red Army Faction has warned the people of Stuttgart to get off the streets between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. Friday because it will blow up three cars then "as a reminder of the bombing war of the U.S. imperialists in Vietnam."

The group has claimed responsibility for a series of bombings in the last two weeks at U.S. Army compounds and other buildings. The blasts have killed four U.S. servicemen and injured scores of other persons.

peror Wilhelm of Germany arbitrated a settlement by awarding the contested islands to the United States.

Over the weekend, the Canadian vessel HMCS Porte de Law Reine visited this San Juan Island community to celebrate the centennial of the end of the Pig War.

Article XX of the AFL-CIO constitution, covering such disputes, he said.

"This limited, negative role of the AFL-CIO in providing rules of war between its affiliates is not, and should not be, what the American labor movement is all about," Wurf said.

"If we can get rid of the warts of jurisdictional warfare, we can get on with the important business of organizing the unorganized," he said, pointing out that only about one-fourth of the nation's 80 million workers belong to unions.

"The ability of the trade union movement to meet its responsibilities in the future will depend heavily on its ability to organize the remaining 75 percent of the work force," Wurf said.

The only growth in labor union membership in the past 10 years, he said, has been among public employees.

"We can build strength rather than dissipate power," he said in urging an end to jurisdictional spats and new organizing efforts.

"A stronger labor movement will be more representative, more credible. With that power of organization the American labor movement can be more what it should be, which is a countervailing force for good," he said.

"Our society is threatened by the absence of such a force. Labor needs economic, political, and social clout. Strong labor organization provides a climate of economic reasonableness and political responsiveness," Wurf added.

He said the problem of jurisdictional disputes and a lack of organizing had made many workers suspicious of labor unions.

"There is a lack of respect for the labor movement generally. The credibility of labor's leadership is suspected by many workers. These attitudes should not be taken lightly, whether legitimate or fanciful," he said.

New Turbine Breaks Down at New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Does anybody know how to start a $240,000 gas turbine car?

The vehicle, said to be the only one of its kind, has broken down eight times since it arrived here in February on loan from the federal government for testing as a low-pollution alternative to the internal combustion engine. Right now it is out of commission.

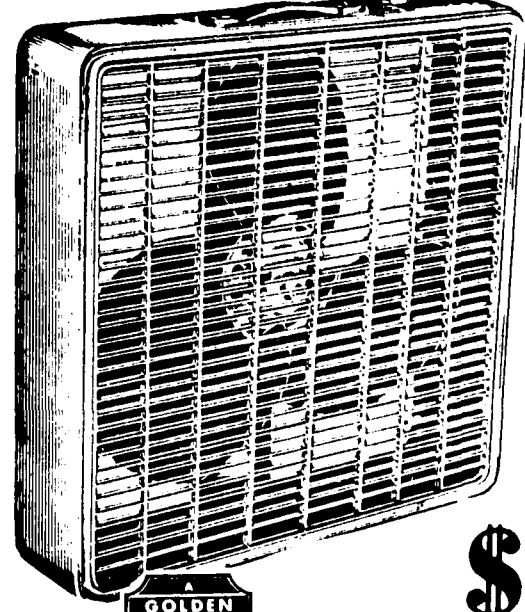

"We can't get it started, and we don't know why," Air Resources Commissioner Alfred Hart acknowledged Sunday.

Hart said the car, manufactured by the Williams Research Corp. of Walled Lake, Mich., would be shipped back to a federal testing facility in Ann Arbor, Mich., if additional funds are not provided for further adjustments and testing.

"We are not going to do anything on that car with city funds," Hart said.

South hadn't even gotten around to sorting his tremendous hand when he heard West open with four hearts. He had it sorted by the time North and East had passed, but it was quite a while before he decided what to bid. Eventually he settled for a six-spade call.

West opened a heart as one would expect and South looked over dummy happily. It would be a cinch to ruff that heart lead: ruff trump, take his ace and king of diamonds; enter dummy with the 10 of trumps, discard two clubs on the good diamonds and try the club finesse for seven.

All this looked easy but nevertheless South was careful. He ruffed the eight-spot, not the five.

Then he played his ace of trumps and there was East with all three trumps and there was South with need to reach dummy. He cashed his ace and king of diamonds, led the nine of spades and overtook with dummy's 10.

East could do no better than to put on the jack and return the suit. This let South in dummy with the six spot. He discarded two clubs on the high diamonds and tried the club finesse. It worked and the slam came in.

Look what would have happened to South if he had

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Acne Can Be a Complex Problem

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — You had a letter stating that a woman, when put on birth control pills, had her complexion clear. To quote you, "This points up the influence sex hormones have on skin problems." Why for God's sake do doctors and dermatologists ignore this evidence and go on treating acne with tetracycline (it ruined my son's teeth), and X ray and smelly medications? My daughter's face is so badly scarred I cringe. Now what is breaking my heart is my 19-year-old son who has acne can't get rid of it. I have a 12-year-old with this beautiful transparent skin and as soon as I see a red blotch I die a little. Maybe I am making too much of my enigma, but it is devouring me. I love beauty only if it is skin deep.

Dear Reader—Severe acne is difficult to treat. One of the difficult things in practicing medicine is that there are a number of problems that are difficult or impossible to treat. Most doctors would like to be able to prevent cancer, cure heart disease and yes, eliminate acne, but it is just not that simple.

I do believe anyone who has a severe acne of the type your letter suggests your children have had does need expert care. That doesn't guarantee that there won't still be problems, but at least it may prevent them from being as bad as they might otherwise have been. The rest of your letter states you could go to Milwaukee or Madison. Why don't you see if you can get your doctor to refer you to the dermatology department at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. Most of the doctors welcome a consultation and if there is anything new which can be done with the severe type of acne which you describe, perhaps they can be of help. I don't mean to be discouraging, but very severe cases of acne are often very difficult to cure, even by the most competent dermatologists available.

Now about those hormones. Boys and girls both tend to develop the common variety of acne at the time they go through adolescence and start elaborating sex hormones. This is particularly true in boys. So it is a well established observation that sex hormones do influence skin problems sometimes making them worse. Birth control pills can actually help to relieve the problem in some cases. The difficulty is, which is immediately obvious, that birth control pills with female hormones are not exactly the best thing to give to sexually maturing boys, hence, it isn't done. Boys usually prefer to be boys.

THOUGHTS

"For you shall go out in joy, and be led forth in peace; the mountains and the hills before you shall break forth into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."—Isaiah 55:12

Because the road was steep and long—and through a dark and lonely land. God set upon my lips a song and put a lantern in my hand.—Joyce Kilmer, American poet.

He said to them, "Because of your little faith. For truly I say to you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move hence to yonder place,' and it will move, and nothing will be impossible to you."—Matthew 17:20

Faith, mighty faith, the promise sees and looks to God alone. Laugh at impossibilities, and cries, "It shall be one!"—Charles Wesley, English clergyman

Irish Bomb Blast Kills Soldier

BELFAST (AP) — A bomb blast damaged the heavily sandbagged Springfield Road police station and army command post in Belfast Tuesday night, killing one British soldier and wounding four other soldiers and two civilians. A sniper killed another British soldier on patrol.

The bombing came after a day of violent reaction by the Provisional wing of the outlawed Irish Republican Army to the cease-fire ordered by the rival Official faction. About 40 young gunmen were reported to have switched from the Officials to the Provisionals so they could keep fighting.

Chief of Staff Sean MacStiofain of the Provisionals ordered his rebel guerrillas to continue their bomb and bullet campaign despite the truce the Officials announced Monday night. In addition to the two soldiers, a 12-year-old girl shot on Sunday died during the night, raising the toll in three years of communal warfare in Northern Ireland to at least 352 dead. The child had been buying candy and was hit by a guerrilla who apparently was aiming at a policeman.

Guerrillas also bombed a beer bottling plant in Belfast, causing $520,000 damage; a police station at Dungiven, County Tyrone, and a garage at Claudy, County Londonderry.

Protestant militants planning an anti-IRA march in Londonderry Saturday announced they would defy the British government order that they keep away from the center of the city and adjoining Roman Catholic sections.

Last weekend thousands of masked, uniformed Protestants paraded through Belfast in military formation and British officials fear such a demonstration in Londonderry—where the Protestants are outnumbered—would produce a sectarian battle.

Misleading Quotes Corrected

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI would like to resign but apparently feels he cannot, according to remarks taped by the Vatican.

"It would be beautiful to be able to shake off the burden of the Church and say I do not want it," Pope Paul said in a private speech to a group of nuns April 24, a time when the Italian press was debating whether the pontiff would abdicate when he turns 75 on Sept. 26.

In releasing the remarks Tuesday, the Vatican said it acted to correct misleading quotes from the same speech in Italian newspapers. Pope Paul was quoted as saying, "I do not want to give up the papacy."

'Bad Judgment' Blamed In Dam Disaster Deaths

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr., Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A sheriff's deputy says residents could have been evacuated before the disastrous collapse of a coal-refuse dam in West Virginia if it had not been declared safe by a mining-company official.

Otto Mutters, Lorado, W. Va., chief deputy sheriff, told a Senate Labor subcommittee Tuesday that Buffalo Mining Company Vice President Steve Dasovich told him and another deputy, "It's all right, you fellows can go back," less than two hours before the massive dam collapsed.

"If Steve had known it was going to break, we could have gotten everybody out," said Mutters. "He made a bad judgment call."

"I based that on what I considered to be sound judgment," Dasovich testified.

The dam collapsed minutes after 8 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 26. The list of known dead stands at 118. Seven are still missing. Dasovich said he inspected the dam site sometime after 6 a.m. Saturday along with strip mine superintendent Jack Kent. Dasovich said he also called the sheriff and told him "the thing looks all right."

Kent, who had checked the rising water level in the dam through Friday night and into the predawn hours, said he was concerned about the stability of

New Yorker Witness of Bloody Assault

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Golden, a 29-year-old New Yorker living in Israel, was waiting for his sister to come out of customs when Japanese terrorists working for the Arabs staged a massacre at Lod International Airport, killing 25 persons and wounding more than 70. Here is his report of what he saw.

By TOM GOLDEN
TEL AVIV (AP) — I was standing with my mother at the glass partition separating the public from the customs hall at the airport when I saw explosions, lights and flashes, and heard guns firing.

I was standing next to a pillar, and I yanked my mother behind it. She is 60.

My mother said, "I'm hit." I looked, and there was a gouge in her knee. She was not seriously hurt.

Then the glass where I had been standing seconds earlier was shattered by gunfire. The next thing I knew, there was a short Japanese man standing up against the steel railing of the partition.

He was firing his submachine gun from the waist, through the broken glass, into the hall where passengers buy tickets and the public waits for incoming travelers.

His face was screwed up and wincing, but there did not seem to be any hatred.

Emotional Farewell For Connally

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Texas state flag fluttered above the Treasury building, John B. Connally paid an emotional farewell to a crowd of about 500 of his employees gathered around Alexander Hamilton's statue.

Proclaiming his 16 months as secretary of the Treasury as perhaps the most exciting in the staid old department's history, Connally said, "I leave it—and you—with mixed emotions."

But the 55-year-old former Texas governor gave no hint of his future plans in a brief goodbye speech to Treasury workers Tuesday. He has been mentioned as a possible running mate to President Nixon this fall, or perhaps the next secretary of state should Nixon be re-elected.

As Treasury workers gathered on a patio outside the building, Connally threw in a little political oratory along with praise for Treasury employees for their help in instituting wage-price controls and devaluation of the dollar.

"I assume all the responsibility for the bad and give you all the credit for the good," he said. He predicted the future will hold "some profound changes in the form and thrust of government, the economic base of this nation, and the way in which government relates itself to business and labor."

'Bad Judgment' Blamed In Dam Disaster Deaths

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr., Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A sheriff's deputy says residents could have been evacuated before the disastrous collapse of a coal-refuse dam in West Virginia if it had not been declared safe by a mining-company official.

Otto Mutters, Lorado, W. Va., chief deputy sheriff, told a Senate Labor subcommittee Tuesday that Buffalo Mining Company Vice President Steve Dasovich told him and another deputy, "It's all right, you fellows can go back," less than two hours before the massive dam collapsed.

"If Steve had known it was going to break, we could have gotten everybody out," said Mutters. "He made a bad judgment call."

"I based that on what I considered to be sound judgment," Dasovich testified.

The dam collapsed minutes after 8 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 26. The list of known dead stands at 118. Seven are still missing. Dasovich said he inspected the dam site sometime after 6 a.m. Saturday along with strip mine superintendent Jack Kent. Dasovich said he also called the sheriff and told him "the thing looks all right."

He just looked as though he was doing a job. I realized then that we were not so safe behind the pillar. He could have shot at us. I don't know why he didn't. He just stared straight ahead and fired his submachine gun.

I took my mother's hand and started pulling her away from the pillar, toward the exit of the terminal. She slipped. I raised her up and dragged her out. I said, "Ma, don't run."

Golden's sister Carol, a tall blonde, was asked by newsmen if she would stay for a month of vacation in Israel as she originally planned.

"Are you kidding?" she replied. "I'm getting out of here as soon as I can."

House Passes Subversive Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, over claims of liberals that it is ushering in "a new era of McCarthyism," has passed a bill conservatives call vital to help the government protect itself against subversives.

The legislation, sent to the Senate on a 226-105 vote Tuesday, would empower the president to put the Subversive Activities Control Board to work under a new name—federal internal security board.

Fashioned along lines endorsed by the Nixon administration, the bill would let the board hold hearings and make findings on organizations "to ascertain the suitability of individuals on loyalty and security grounds for admission to or retention in the civil service of the executive branch."

Opponents headed by Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., claimed this is so vague that freedom of speech and association would be chilled. They also claimed the bill delegates power to the president without setting proper standards and rules.

But backers, guided by Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, intended the legislation would effectively help the government upgrade its efforts to protect itself from modern sources of subversion.

The bill also gives the board the subpoena power and authority to go to court to enforce its orders.

Official in Grain Trade Talks Quitting Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high ranking Nixon administration farm official, deeply involved in U.S.-Soviet grain-trade talks, reportedly is quitting to take a job with a big grain supplier.

Industry sources say the job with Continental Grain Co. of New York has been accepted by Asst. Agriculture Secretary Clarence D. Palmby and that he will head up European operations for the giant firm in anticipation of new grain sales to the Soviets.

Continental, one of the world's largest, was the chief supplier last year in a sale of nearly three million tons of feed grain to the Soviet Union, the first major U.S. deal with Moscow in eight years.

Now, with Russia needing more grain to boost livestock production, Continental reportedly will employ Palmby to lay groundwork for more sales.

Palmby, asked Tuesday about the report, declined comment.

Although U.S.-Soviet trade expansion was not settled during President Nixon's week-long visit to Moscow, industry sources say some interim grain sales are likely in the near future.

Palmby has been in charge of international affairs and domestic farm programs for the department since he was

Wednesday, May 31, 1972 named assistant secretary early in the Nixon administration three years ago.

He has a long association with U.S. and foreign agricultural problems and was a chief architect of current farm programs. Last April he headed a U.S. team to Moscow which opened for grain-trade talks with the Soviets.

Moscow officials have indicated repeatedly they want to buy surplus U.S. grain to help increase production of meat, dairy products and poultry for Soviet consumers. Recent crop setbacks, particularly for winter wheat, have created some urgency.

Administration officials have indicated that, if a long-term agreement can be reached, Russia might buy at least $200 million worth of U.S. grain a year.
